

EIN 6905: Data Analytics in System Monitoring

Team:

Topic:

Overall (100)

Problem statement (15): Define the problem of interest, state the study focus (methodology or application) and significance.

Introduction of the literature (20): Identify relevant papers, explain their main focuses and ideas, specify connections and differences in the literature (if necessary).

Explanation of methods (20): Clearly describe the chosen methods, justify your choice of method, include necessary technical details.

Explanation of results (15): Explain the data/examples you used, state the necessary modifications you made (if applicable), describe observed results.

Summary of findings and insights (15): Present your findings logically, such as the main conclusion, strength and shortage of the applied method, applicational insights, and recommendations for methodological/applicational modification.

Logic and organization of the presentation (15): Logical, clear, and understandable presentation, suitable for general audience (target at your classmates).